

Nuh uh!

(A poem for two voices)

No matter what I say,

You say nuh uh.

Ya huh!

You just said it,

Nuh uh!

Nuh uh!

I am not

And silly old squid

Is a really cheap shot.

Nuh, uh!

Nuh uh, no I didn't;

And you said it first,

You said nuh uh

And, what's even worse,

You're a silly old squid.

Nuh, uh, no it isn't.

And don't act so hurt.

When it comes to name calling,

You're the first one to blurt.

Nuh huh!

I do not.

Nuh uh,

No I wasn't!

This is really too much.

Who cares about ya huhs,

And nah uhs and such?

Okay, I agree;

Yes, I'll do the same.

Ya huh!

You sure do.

I bet you were ready

To call me koo-koo.

I agree!

We should cease;

We should stop calling names.

There'll be no more name calling;

This is quite a breakthrough.

I'm glad you suggested it.

Nuh uh! It was you!
